As Director of the City of Alexandria’s Department of Transportation and Environmental Services, Yon Lambert oversees a staff of more than 250, with an annual operating budget of $95 million. Some of his favorite projects include the new, infill Potomac Yard Metrorail Station (which is under construction and expected to open in spring 2022) and Metroway, Virginia’s first Bus Rapid Transit (BRT) line along Route 1. Under his leadership, the City is making major investments in two new BRT lines and electric buses for Alexandria’s DASH system. He is also very excited about the City’s Smart Mobility program, which is applying information technology to the City’s transportation system.

Yon holds a B.A. from the University of South Carolina and a Master of Public Administration from Virginia Tech. Lambert is an alumnus of post-graduate programs at Harvard’s Kennedy School of Government, the University of Virginia and the University of Miami (FL) School of Architecture.
